Foundation for Health Improvement Community Impact Report

---

Letter from the Executive Director

---

We are pleased to share our PacificSource Foundation for Health Improvement highlights from 2025. Together with our nonprofit partners, we advanced our priorities of Increasing Access to Healthcare and the Prevention & Intervention of Health Inequities. We supported 61 organizations through $2 million in grants across Oregon, Idaho, and Montana.

Throughout 2025, we had the privilege of visiting many grant partner sites and heard from nonprofits who are advancing health equity every day. We learned how many organizations are navigating a challenging political and economic environment. They shared stories of increasing demand and complexity of needs among their clients, and highlighted growing fear and uncertainty among many in their communities. They also noted emerging funding challenges that make it difficult to meet these growing needs. Despite these challenges, many noted the importance of forging collaboration across diverse sectors and fostering creative approaches. Throughout, we saw organizations that remain devoted to making healthcare accessible, helping people navigate complex systems, and connecting them to the resources they need to lead a healthy life.

The PacificSource Foundation is honored to support the many mission-driven nonprofits we partner with and invest in. We are dedicated to fostering community solutions and capacity that advances health and equity.

The PacificSource Foundation for Health Improvement is a private foundation that provides grants to community-based organizations and partners with initiatives that increase healthcare access and promote health equity.

OREGON

Adelante' Mujeres

Funding supports mental health services provided by Health Equity team, including two culturally responsive, qualified mental health professionals, serving 1,000 clients by providing holistic mental health workshops and therapy sessions.

Friends of the Children – Lane County

Pairs at-risk youth with professional mentors, to build trusting, consistent relationships that promote resilience, social-emotional development, and reduce the long-term health impacts of toxic stress. Funding will support a Clinical Lead position that will oversee trauma-informed, resilience-building services across the full youth and caregiver population.

MONTANA

Messengers for Health

This Indigenous nonprofit organization provides essential transportation support to increase healthcare access for the Crow Nation. They also provide multiple research-based, culturally specific health programs in partnership with Montana State University as a long-term evaluation and research partner. Funding will support healthcare access and health promotion on the Apsáalooke (Crow) Reservation in SW Montana.

Catalyst for Change

Funding will support Community Health Workers (CHWs), training, and provider network development to advance culturally competent care. Connects underserved Montanans to timely mental healthcare by pairing local CHWs with a telehealth network of licensed psychiatrists and therapists. This virtual-meets-local model connects people with providers within 72 hours.

IDAHO

Agency for New Americans

Funding will support the Community Health Worker (CHW) program, enabling New Americans to connect to health and social care in a culturally and linguistically appropriate way. Supports newly arrived refugees and immigrants in achieving self-sufficiency through education, skills training, and support during their resettlement period. The CHW Program provides individualized support for a range of health and social needs.

Marimn Health

Owned and run by the Coeur d'Alene Tribe, Marimn Health provides comprehensive healthcare services. Marimn Health's culturally responsive approach integrates traditional healing practices with modern medicine, serving tribal members and surrounding communities regardless of ability to pay. Funding will support a Medication Assisted Treatment Coordinator position that will integrate traditional healing practices into the existing Marimn Health Treatment Program, enhancing health equity through timely diagnosis and management of chronic conditions.
