

A Self-funded Dental Plan Might Be Right for You

Also known as “administrative services only” (or ASO) plans, a self-funded dental plan may be a smart option for employers with 51 to 100 employees.

Simple, Flexible, and Convenient

Maintaining dental health is an essential part of overall well-being. Numerous studies suggest a connection between gum disease and a variety of serious health problems, including heart disease, strokes, premature births, and arthritis.

With this in mind, prevention can't be overemphasized. It's why preventive services are so important to PacificSource dental plans. Optimal dental health not only improves the health of employees, but it also helps control your dental insurance costs.

In addition to cost savings, self-funding your dental plan allows you to:

- Enjoy low monthly administrative costs
- Fund claims as they're received, on a bimonthly basis
- Fund dental benefits based on your organization's actual claims, not a “pool” of other employers' experience
- Access monthly claims reports by service category and type

With PacificSource for both medical and dental coverage, you'll have the convenience of one source for information about your coverage.
